

A Panama Canal voyage with the new Cunard liner QUEEN ELIZABETH and Across America by Train-Coast to Coast without flying

PANAMA CANAL with the QUEEN

ONCE ONLY - JANUARY 18, 2012
20 DAYS FROM $3995 PER PERSON

While many ships offer voyages through the Panama Canal, there is only a rare chance this January to transit this wonder of the world aboard the new QUEEN ELIZABETH. Heir to the grand tradition established by the original Queen Mary, the original Queen Elizabeth and the Queen Elizabeth 2, this great Cunard liner combines a fabled 169 year heritage of seagoing excellence with all the modern amenities one would enjoy in a modern Five-star resort. Nicer still, by combining this extraordinary voyage through the Panama Canal and adding in comfortable train travel to & from the ship from your hometown, we have crafted a holiday that is both convenient, stylish and allows you to see a good deal of this great country both coming and going. Depending on where you live, you can enjoy travel on such famous trains as the Lake Shore Limited, the Empire Builder and the Coast Starlight, even stopping to visit family or friends if you wish. In any event, we take care of all of your train arrangements for you; reserving the space that you desire, arranging the best routing, all of it. Best of all, after your stay in San Francisco, you may choose to travel home aboard the legendary California Zephyr over the storied 'Mainline through the Rockies' of the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad, a visual treat of epic proportions with Glenwood Canyon, the Continental Divide and the Front Range of the Rockies. No other Panama voyage offers you the Colorado Rockies, only Train Holidays.

Despite beautiful sights on this voyage like the Cayman Islands, the actual path through the jungle of the Panama Canal, Acapulco and, of course, sailing under the Golden Gate Bridge into San Francisco, not all of the grandeur and beauty is outside. Inside QUEEN ELIZABETH, regal public rooms that evoke the golden age of Ocean travel await, from the two-storey Library, the grand Royal Court Theatre, the Golden Lion Pub and nicest of all, the grand Queen's Room with chandeliers for traditional afternoon tea daily and big band dancing every night. With a wide choice of dining options, from casual to opulent, a complete spa and health club and more amenities than a small city, there is no finer way to see the Panama Canal.

Since 1840 Cunard has enjoyed a tradition of sea-going superiority and perfection, making it the most storied and acclaimed shipping company ever. This grand tradition reached its apogee with the original Queen Mary and QE2 and is still alive and well today aboard the new Queen Elizabeth.

Lastly, our program offers a unique 'One Call does it all' arrangement for the cruise of your lifetime through the Panama Canal on the newest, grandest liner in years. We expertly arrange your train travel with your preferred routing, your hotel stay, and your cabin choice aboard QUEEN ELIZABETH as well as travel home from San Francisco. Our entire staff has traveled on Cunard Line dozens of times and has done every Amtrak route, so there is no question we do not know the answer to. In short, this one-time voyage has only one flaw, it will sell out quickly and prompt reservations are encouraged.

HIGHLIGHTS

- Round-trip Amtrak coach travel from your hometown to the beginning of the voyage in New York City and home from San Francisco afterwards with the option of the stunning daylight passage through the Colorado Rockies aboard the famed California Zephyr.
- Two-night hotel stay after the voyage in 'Everybody's Favorite City', San Francisco at the excellent Hilton at Fisherman's Wharf with sightseeing, a cable car ride 'halfway to the stars' and Farewell Dinner. Guests may extend their stay in San Francisco or in California at no additional charge, returning home by train later.
- Complete Panama Canal voyage from New York City (17 nights) to San Francisco aboard the new QUEEN ELIZABETH in cabin category chosen. Our arrival in San Francisco under the Golden Gate Bridge is a Maiden Arrival and promises to be a fitting entrée to this beautiful city.
- A professional tour manager aboard ship and in San Francisco to assure your holiday runs smoothly from start to finish. We have also included special cocktail parties and events aboard ship and ashore.
- Transfers between the ship, hotels and train stations.

The QUEEN ELIZABETH

A worthy heir to a legacy of sophisticated travel. The newest Cunard ocean liner, the QUEEN ELIZABETH, is the latest in a regal lineage. With a host of public areas including a Winter Garden, an authentic British Pub (with fish & chips and English ales), the stylish Chart Room Bar and the Empire Casino, there is plenty of room to relax and enjoy this heir to the proud Cunard tradition. There is also the Queens Room with big band dancing nightly, the Verandah Restaurant, evoking the original aboard the 1936 Queen Mary, the Spa & Fitness Centre, swimming pools and, of course, the Panama Canal!

Across America by Train

Not only will our guests see the Panama Canal by day but scenic wonders await to & from the voyage with the complimentary round-trip train travel we have included from your hometown! This allows you to enjoy, before or after your cruise, travel aboard such legendary trains as the California Zephyr, the Empire Builder, the Southwest Chief and the Coast Starlight. We make all reservations for you and handle all of the details. Highly recommended after the voyage arrives in San Francisco, for our friends in the East and Midwest, is travel back to Chicago aboard the storied California Zephyr, offering up a visual feast of daylight passages through both the Sierra Nevada and the Colorado Rockies. All aboard!
